

A comprehensive guide to clever planning your long weekends

Find your days off

- Vacation days*
- Public holidays*
- Weekends*

Plan your year

- Do your research in fall, so you can plan the whole upcoming year ahead*
- See if any bank holidays fall on Friday or Monday, that way you can leave on Thursday evening or come back on Monday evening*
- If bank holidays fall on Thursdays or Tuesdays, it is not a disaster. Check with your boss if you can get a day off between the bank holiday and the weekend.*

You can do it too

Set your budget

- Staycation or abroad
- Drive or fly
- City, beach or hiking
- Couchsurfing, Airbnb, hostel or hotel, staying with family or friends
- Flying on Tuesday, Wednesday or Saturday is cheapest

Tips

- Consider the season you will be traveling before choosing the destination
- Choose the destination by cheapest airfares - check the different airlines
- Check if you can save money on booking flights and accommodations with the same provider. I personally recommend Booking.com

Packing tips

Travel with carry on only

- It saves you time at the airport
- No hassle and time loss with airline losing your luggage
- Easy to maneuver
- Hotels in Europe offer toiletry accessories, towels, hairdryer and umbrellas for free (no need to pack those)
- Bring a foldable water bottle and a LifeStraw and save lots of money on bottled water

Bon Voyage

Clothes and shoes

- Consider the season you will be traveling and destination
- Plan your outfits so you can combine for several occasions
- Layer on a layer is always a good idea for fall and winter, especially in Northern parts of the world
- Remember to bring good walking shoes - you can find some good stuff on this packing list
- Traveling to Southern and Eastern Europe remember to bring an outfit for a night out, as people there dress up for a party

Happy travels and if you have any questions at all, please let me know!
